

Atmaca Elektronik A.Ş. chooses Foxxum Smart TV solution for all of its brands

Atmaca Elektronik A.Ş., third largest electronics manufacturer and third biggest exporter in Turkey, today announced, that it has chosen Foxxum as their exclusive Smart TV solution provider for all of today's and future Atmaca brands worldwide.

The agreement includes its most popular brand Sunny as well as all international OEM projects and devices. Through this cooperation and by taking advantage of Atmaca's export activities into more than 40 countries, Foxxum is adding even more distribution power to its platform while creating a solid, yet innovative foundation to increase Atmaca's Smart TV and STB market shares.

"We are delighted to announce our cooperation with Foxxum, a strong and trustful partner with global scale", explains Adem Atmaca, CEO and President of the Board at Atmaca. "Choosing Foxxum as our exclusive partner, underlines our strategy to only work with the best, with experienced players who are able to adapt vastly to our ideas and who can contribute to our future success. Together we will create a strong momentum within the Smart TV and STB market – not only in Turkey, but worldwide."

"Our partnership with Atmaca is an important step to defend our leading position as provider for international Smart TV solutions. Highly sophisticated products, innovative user experience and attractive content has always been the key to our successful growth. Therefore we are very happy to create a strong and long lasting partnership with Atmaca, a company that stands for excellent quality", says Ronny Lutzi, CEO at Foxxum.
